

Gen. PICTON'S DETERMINATION.—I once heard an anecdote of Picton, from an officer, who was himself at Waterloo.—Picton, I was told by this officer, was wounded the day before Waterloo, but had concealed his hurt, and with the most heroic fortitude remained in the field. During the night, however, the agony of his wound obliged him to send for a surgeon, who remained with him until dawn; and, on his leaving, Picton thus addressed him:

"You say that my wound is dangerous—mortal; that I am unfit for duty and must be represented so to the Duke?"

"Such is my opinion," said the medical man. "I think it would be impossible for you to take command of your division."

"Leave me to judge of that, sir," said Picton, "and in the meanwhile, allow me to ask you a question. From your long knowledge of me, do you consider me capable of strictly keeping my word?"

"I have every cause to believe so," returned the surgeon; "but why the question, Sir Thomas?"

"Simply for this reason," returned Picton, "that I have made up my mind to be in the field with my brigade; and I give you my word of honor, both as a gentleman and a soldier, that if you place my name in your report as unfit for duty, I will shoot you with my own hand."

The surgeon shrugged his shoulders, shook Picton by the hand and withdrew.

The gallant general's name was accordingly omitted amongst the wounded; and, as his wish had often been expressed, that he might die amidst the blaze of battle, he was gratified.

THE GERMAN BRANCH OF THE SMIT FAMILY.—The "Turn Vercians" is the name of a society in Albany, composed of Germans, having for its object the development of the muscles, and confidence by gymnastic exercises, by otogon and others. The editor of the Albany Express who was present at a meeting a few evenings since, says he was most profoundly struck at the calling of the roll with the number of "Smits" belonging to the institution.—He gives all he can recollect as follows:

Big Smit; Little Smit; Smit from de hill; Smit from de hollow; Smit mit de lager bier shop; Smit mit out any vrow; Smit mit want a vrow; Smit mit one leg; Smit mit de pig feet; Smit mit de pig head; Smit mit de pig feet; Smit mit de brick yard; Smit mit de junk shop; Smit mit de belogans; Smit mit one eye; Smit mit two eyes; Smit mit de bone picker; Smit mit two vrows. Smit mit de milk cart; Smit mit de sugar stumps; Smit mit de peach pie; Smit mit de red whiskers; Smit mit red hair; Smit mit no hair; Smit.

Hen fanciers in England are just now interested in a new species of domestic fowl, brought from the Black Sea, which is likely to rival the Shanghai and Cochina breeds. It is as large as the former, crested, has feathered legs, and is either all white or a glossy raven black. Its tail feathers droop and lie close to the body, so that it appears tail-less. It is pugnacious and lively.

SUPERIORITY OF AMERICAN MECHANISM.—Late French papers give the following account of a trial of Reaping Machines which recently took place in the vicinity of Paris:

A trial of American, French, and English machines for cutting and gathering up corn, hay, &c., and which are now to be seen at the Exhibition, took place the day before yesterday at Trappes, Count de Gasparin presiding. A large number of persons were present; six tents were erected, and large quantities of potatoes were provided, which from the great heat of the day were in general request. M. Daily, on whose property the experiments took place, had a special tent erected, under which he hospitably entertained the members of the jury and other invited guests.—There were nine machines on the ground two French, four American, and three English. At a given signal they commenced their trial, which was to cut down 1,733 square yards of oats. The American machine of McCormick, completed its task in a masterly manner, in 17 minutes; the second American machine took 23 minutes, and the third 24 minutes. The other machines took from 24 minutes to one hour and twenty minutes to perform their work. The next trial was to cut down and gather up a given quantity of lucerne, when the palm of victory again fell to the machine of McCormick.

DRUNKENNESS.—"Never was drunk but once in my life," said a chap in my hearing, "never mean to be again. The streets seemed to be very steep, and I lifted up my legs at every step as if going up stairs." Several cars wheels were making revolutions in my brain, and at one time I fancied that my head was a large carving and turning establishment, the lathes of which I was keeping in motion with my feet. I could not conceive what was the reason that the town had turned into such an enormous hill, and what made it worse, it seemed all the while growing higher, and threatened to pitch over on me.—Stop, stop, thought I, and I'll head this old hill yet, or at least it shan't head me. So I turned round to go down and get at the bottom, but hang me if the town did not turn round with me all the time, and presenting a bluff in front of me. Well, sure enough, the ground flew up and struck me on the forehead, and as soon as the stars cleared away, I commenced climbing with my hands and knees. The next thing I saw was a big brick house coming full split around the corner, and I believe it run over me, for I don't remember any more.—Family Journal.

GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY. The Most Valuable Spring and Summer Medicine in the World!! DR. HALSEY'S FOREST WINE!

Patronized by the Nobility and Medical Faculty of England, and esteemed the most extraordinary Medicine in the World.

Medicines containing molasses or liquorice like the boasted Sarsaparilla, require many large bottles to produce the slightest change in health. The Forest Wine is altogether a different article. It contains no syrups to give it consistency, but acquires its excellent flavor, and powerful medicinal properties from the vegetable plants of which it is composed. The Forest Wine combines the virtues of the Wild Cherry, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, and Sarsaparilla!

with other valuable plants whose properties are still more effective.

Its high concentration renders it one of the most efficient medicines now in use. Sometimes less than a single bottle restores the lingering patient from weakness, debility, and sickness, to strong and vigorous health. Every dose shows its good effects on the constitution, and improves the state of the health. The Forest Wine is recommended, in the strongest terms, for all complaints of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Nervous Disorders, Bilious Affections, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, Female Complaints, Scrofula, and all Disorders arising from bad blood and impure habit of the system.

Saved from Death!!!

Testimony of Mr. Nathan Mathews, a highly respectable and wealthy citizen of Newark, N. J.

Dr. G. W. Halsey—I believe your Forest Wine and Pills have been the means of saving my life. When I commenced taking them I laid at the point of death, with Dropsy, Piles, and Asthma. My physicians had given me over as past cure, and my family had lost all hopes of my recovery. While in this dreadful situation, your Forest Wine and Pills were procured for me, and before I had finished the first bottle of the Wine and box of Pills, I experienced great relief; my body and limbs, which were greatly swollen, became sensibly reduced. Hopes of my recovery began now to revive, and after continuing the use of your medicine for about a month, the Piles and Asthma were completely cured. The Dropsy, with which my life was placed in such great danger, was also nearly gone. I have continued the use of your medicines until the present time, and I now enjoy as perfect health as ever I did in my life, although I am more than sixty years of age.

Yours, respectfully,

N. MATHEWS.

Newark, N. J., Dec. 19, 1847.

Great Cure of Liver Complaint of Ten Years Standing.

New York, Jan. 9th, 1848.

Dr. Halsey, Dear Sir—Having taken your Forest Wine and Pills to remove a disease of the Liver, from which I have suffered severely for upwards of ten years; and having adhered closely to the directions which accompany the medicines, I have recovered my health notwithstanding all who knew me had pronounced my case incurable. Previous to taking the Wine and Pills, I had recourse to the best medical treatment, but continued to grow worse to an alarming degree. Some of my friends spoke despondingly of my case, and tried to persuade me from making use of any advertised remedies; and, I doubt not, but what there are hundreds who are dissuaded from taking your excellent medicines, in consequence of the deception and inefficiency of many advertised remedies put forth by unprincipled men, in flaming advertisements. But, what a pity it is, that the deception used by others, should be the means of dissuading many laboring under disease, from making trial and being cured by your excellent remedies. Humbly speaking, they have saved my life; when I commenced making use of them, I was in a wretched condition, but began to experience their good effects in less than three days; and six weeks from the time I purchased the medicine, to the great surprise of all my friends, I was entirely cured, and had increased fifteen pounds in weight, having taken one box of the Pills, and two bottles of the Wine. Word to God that every poor sufferer would avail himself of the same remedies.

Yours, &c.,

JAMES WILSON.

Nervous Diseases

Are diseases of the mind as well as of the body, are usually brought on by troubles and affliction, and are most common to persons of delicate constitutions and sensitive minds.—Low spirits, melancholy, frightful dreams, and other nervous disorders, with which she had been afflicted for many years. Her body was almost wasted away. She was frequently disturbed in her sleep by frightful dreams, awakening quite exhausted and covered with perspiration, and at times laboring under the delusion that something dreadful was about to happen to her. By the use of four bottles of the Wine, and a box of the Pills, she is now in perfect health. She has regained her flesh and color, and enjoys society as well as ever.

J. C. PAULING.

Dr. David Marvin, a celebrated practitioner of New York, declared publicly, that one bottle of Halsey's Forest Wine contained more virtue than fifty of the large bottles of Sarsaparilla. Messrs. S. S. LAMPMAN & Co., one of the largest and most respectable Druggists in Syracuse, in a letter, says: "From what they have heard and seen of Halsey's Forest Wine, it is an excellent and good medicine, and will undoubtedly become the leading medicine of the day."

The Forest Wine is put up in large square bottles, with Dr. Halsey's name blown in the glass, $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.—Gum-coated Pills, 25 cents per box. Agents are authorized to retail as well as wholesale on as favorable conditions as the proprietor, No. 161 Duane St., corner of Hudson, New York. Appointed Agents in Gallipolis, B. L. BEARD, and sold by Druggists throughout the State.
